

Course Overview: Mastering FAR 52.204-21 Compliance

Protecting Federal Contract Information (FCI) is a critical requirement for every organization in the federal supply chain. This e-learning course provides a deep dive into FAR 52.204-21, the fundamental clause for the Basic Safeguarding of Covered Contractor Information Systems.

Why This Course?

Designed for both Primes and Subprimes, this training clarifies the mandatory "flow down" requirements. Per FAR 52.204-21(c), prime contractors must include the substance of this security clause in all subcontracts where FCI may reside in or transit through a subcontractor's information system. This course ensures all parties understand their role in maintaining the 15 basic safeguarding controls required by the Federal Acquisition Regulation.

Key Learning Objectives:

- Identify Applicability: Determine when FAR 52.204-21 applies to a contract or subcontract based on the presence of Federal Contract Information (FCI).
- Analyze the 15 Security Controls: Understand the specific technical and physical safeguarding requirements mandated by the ruling, including access limits, authentication, and malicious code protection.
- Execute Flow Down Obligations: Master the regulatory requirement to incorporate the clause into lower-tier subcontracts to ensure end-to-end compliance within the supply chain.

Registration & Pricing:

- Event Attendees: This course is provided free of charge as a benefit of your attendance.
- Post-Event Access: Following the event, we will review participant feedback. The course may remain free or transition to a paid subscription model for new users.

Custom Solutions for Your Organization

Are you a Prime or Subprime looking for a dedicated e-learning platform to host your own internal compliance content? We offer scalable solutions tailored to the unique needs of federal contractors.

Schedule an Appointment on our site today to discuss your platform requirements.